

From: Anthony Neville
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/8/01 12:46am
Subject: DOJ/Microsoft Settlement.

You cloak your actions against Microsoft under the guise of "protecting consumer choice." Your corruption is surpassed only by the vampiric business interests you represent. You snakes! Microsoft has every right to sell its operating system to whomever wants it. Microsoft has every right to bundle its own applications and utilities with its own operating system. They don't belong to you, Apple Corp, RedHat, IBM, nor Sun Microsystems. They are Microsoft's products, and we consumers will decide how successful Microsoft is in the marketplace, not the power-tripping rights violating swine in the Department of (in-)justice, and not those mooching companies on whose behalf the DOJ is punishing a marketplace winner.

Sincerely,
Anthony Neville.